CRC-MBSTU and the SDGs: Working for a Sustainable Future

Come for Road Child, Mawlana Bhashani Science and Technology University

Introducing Come for Road Child (CRC-MBSTU)

Voluntary Student Organisation

A dynamic, student-led initiative based at Mawlana Bhashani Science and Technology University (MBSTU).

Core Mission

Dedicated to supporting underprivileged and street children in the local community.

Our Pillars

Focusing on holistic support through education, healthcare access, and social awareness programmes.

CRC-MBSTU’s Direct Alignment with Global Goals

CRC's voluntary efforts directly address six critical SDGs, demonstrating the power of youth-led local action to achieve global impact.

SDG 1: No Poverty

Providing essential food aid and financial support to lift vulnerable children out of extreme poverty.

SDG 10: Reduced Inequalities

Working proactively to integrate marginalised children into mainstream social opportunities and awareness.

Focus on Education: The Foundation of Empowerment (SDG 4)

Free Teaching Programmes

- Regular, structured classes held in accessible community spaces.
- Curriculum focused on foundational literacy, numeracy, and life skills.
- Creating a safe and engaging learning environment away from the street.

CRC volunteers believe that education is the most powerful tool for ending the cycle of poverty.

Health and Well-being Initiatives (SDG 3)

Beyond education, CRC addresses the critical health disparities faced by underprivileged children.

Community Health Campaigns

Organising free medical check-ups and distributing essential medicines and hygiene kits.

First Aid Training

Equipping volunteers and older children with basic first aid knowledge for immediate response.

Nutritional Support

Targeted provision of nutritious meals and supplements to address chronic malnutrition.
